

ACMA 2018

LEAD RETRIEVAL RENTAL - $1150/booth

!! ACMA is pleased to offer lead retrieval services as part of our conference app !!

Back By Popular Demand: Lead Retrieval is once again available on your smart phone/device through the ACMA Conference App. The nominal lead retrieval fee covers ALL staff working in your booth (you do not have to purchase for each individual employee).

- Approximately 3 weeks prior to the event, ACMA will email you instructions on how to install and utilize the app for lead scanning.
- As attendees visit your booth, simply scan the QR code on their badges and their contact information will be automatically uploaded into your company's online account for access by all of your onsite reps during and after the conference.
- The app and lead retrieval services are supported on current and one previous version of iOS and Android. The Loopd App may work on older versions but isn't guaranteed or supported.
- You don't have to have a voice or data plan on your device to scan leads. As long as you can connect to a wireless network on the device, scanned leads can be transmitted from the device to your online exhibitor account.
- If for some reason, your onsite reps don't have access to a wireless network while in the exhibit hall, they can still scan badges. Once their device is able to connect to a wireless network, the scanned data will automatically be uploaded from their device into your online exhibitor account.

NOTE: per policy, ACMA does not distribute email addresses as part of the attendee directory; however, email addresses will be included in the name badge bar codes – so when you scan attendee badges, you will obtain full contact information and email addresses for those attendees who visit your booth and allow badge scanning.

ACMA will not issue refunds for lead retrieval so if in doubt we recommend that you wait to purchase. Lead retrieval can be purchased leading up to the conference and onsite during the event
